

More Hearings for Old Buck House

It's a case of 'Signals Over' for the old Benjamin Buck House, on Woburn Street, the oldest house in Wilmington.

A hearing last summer before the Board of Appeals resulted in a decision that the land on which the old house stands could be divided into three house lots, providing that the house was torn down. It dates from 1672 or earlier, and needs much repairs.

Partly perhaps as the result of stories appearing in the Town Crier about the house and the Buck family, William F. Butt of West St., a Wilmington contractor, resolved to make an effort to save the old homestead.

A hearing was held before the Board of Appeals a week ago Tuesday, May 10th in which David Cox, the present owner, together with the publisher of the Town Crier, Capt. Nelson, asked that the Board of Appeals reconsider its decision.

The Board said it would investigate, and make a personal inspection of the old house on last Friday.

But before the Friday date rolled around an error was discovered, presumably in the bounds of the property. The Town Crier is not certain as to just what the error is, but the hearings in the past have been invalidated by the discovery of the error, the Town Crier has been told.

New hearings are to be scheduled

The Great Fish Scraps Accident

A 1964 FORD MAKES ITS WAY THROUGH TEN TONS OF FISH: Beneath the West Street Bridge on Interstate 93. Because the camera film was exposed for 1/8th of a second to make this picture the tail lights of the car appear to have been elongated.

If this story were to be told in the annual contest of the Liars Club, in Burlington Wisconsin the teller would probably be awarded first prize. But it is all true. It happened last Friday - Friday the Thirteenth.

Joseph Sevellite of Medford drives a ten ton truck which carries fish scraps from the Boston Fish Pier to the Usen Canning Co., just below the North Woburn line, on Woburn Street. The Usen Canning Company makes Tabby Cat Food, and the fish scraps are the main ingredient.

It was about 6:45 pm. The sun had set half an hour previously and thousands of homeward bound motorists were on the northbound lane (4 lane) of Rte 93. So was Joe Sevellite, with his truck - in the right hand lane. Many of the cars were passing him, on the left.

He arrived at the point where the deceleration lane for Rte 129 starts - right under the West Street Overpass, in South Wilmington. He eased his big truck to the right to get into that deceleration lane.

A little Volkswagen 'Bug' sped past him, on his right. The driver was firmly convinced that he could pass the big truck before he was struck. Sevellite had to turn his wheel sharply to the left to avoid hitting the 'bug' and the VW sped on into the gathering darkness.

But that cargo of fish scraps, ten tons of it, in a big steel bin,

It was just like so much liquid, and when the truck changed direction the cargo didn't.

Those fish scraps just slapped against the side of the truck like so much water, and the impact knocked the truck right over on its side. The fish scraps poured out over the highway - ten tons of fish scraps, all under the West Street bridge.

Both State and Wilmington police were soon on the scene, as was the Wilmington ambulance and the Wilmington fire truck. No one was injured, and the big truck had just slid off the highway. The only problem was the fish - blocking all four lanes of the super highway.

And it was a problem. Trooper Warren Bailey of the State Police called the Wilmington Fire Department and suggested that a fire truck be sent to the scene, to wash the fish off the highway. Lt. George Cushing of the Fire Department pointed out that a mixture of fish oil and water is just about the slipperiest thing there is.

Bailey had to agree with Cushing. So instead he called for snow removal equipment, from the State Department of Public Works - and especially sanding trucks.

For twenty four hours the trucks of the Commonwealth scattered sand on Route 93, from the West Street bridge to the intersection with Route 62, five miles to the

PARKING LOT HALFBACKS

During the past few weeks the coach of Wilmington's High School football squad has come into a little criticism because of his alleged (?) roughness.

Forgotten have been some of the remarks of past years about the boys in the football team always being perfect gentlemen.

Coach Fred Beilissimo is a fair minded man with a sense not only of athletic but of social responsibility. The boys who pass through his hands are boys of whom Wilmington can be proud.

Members of the football squad are never seen in the groups that park in the far recesses of Wilmington's parking lots at night, and litter the area with broken bottles.

Perhaps the thing to do is to organize those parking lot half-backs into football teams and put Beilissimo in charge.

It would only take a couple of teams to do the trick.

THE SITE FOR THE LIBRARY

The site of the old St. Thomas Church is being actively pushed for a library in Wilmington. In the past week the Board of Selectmen issued a call for a Town Meeting, with only four or five days for an "outsider" to get articles in the Warrant for that Town Meeting. The Town Meeting was not being called for the Public Convenience.

The old St. Thomas site was never suitable for a library until the Town Engineer and the Principal Assessor discovered some land behind it which could be purchased. And, even with the additional land, which does provide some parking, it is hardly suitable because it will add to the traffic hazards around the main group of Wilmington schools, is distant from public transportation, and for other reasons.

The site behind Wethberg's store was always a better place, just because of those reasons. It is more centrally located, it can provide better parking facilities, is closer to public transportation, and will not add to the traffic congestion at the High School.

For anyone to argue that a library should be near schools is foolish. Wilmington's schools have better libraries than does the public - libraries built around the needs of the school children. The School Libraries are for the school students, and the Public Library is for the general public.

But even before the Engineer and the Assessor discovered the additional land which could be purchased the then Town Manager had begun to shuffle the personnel of the Board of Trustees of the Public Library. He removed the chairman, and substituted people in that vacancy and others who would be certain to vote for the St. Thomas site.

For reasons of personal prestige, for reasons of old time sentiment, and not for reasons of practicality, the Town of Wilmington is going to get its new library on the old St. Thomas site.

Planning Board

The Planning Board has been pushing forward towards the adoption of an Official Map for Wilmington. There had been hopes that there might be a meeting on Tuesday evening with Professor Elliot of Harvard, but unexpected developments kept the professor in Cambridge. He will meet with the Planning Board on next Tuesday, along with Charles Downes of his staff, formerly with the Commonwealth in its Planning staff. The Planning Board Tuesday night voted to submit an article for the November 20th Special Town Meeting asking for the adoption of an Official Map.

If submitted, and if adopted by the town, the Official Map will then strengthen the Zoning By Laws by reducing the number of "paper" streets in town to near zero, and by regulating the installation of new improvements, such as utilities.

Speaking on the general Planning program, on Tuesday, Secretary Emil Berger said "We are not as bad as it appears - we seem to have been slow, but we are making progress".

Town Manager Sterling Morris, present at the meeting commented that along with the Official Map the town would have to be setting up a program for Land Conservation studies and engineering.

The question of whether or not the Planning Board should have a Traffic Study before it had an Official Map was briefly debated. The board decided that the only traffic study at the present time would be one of the intersection of Lowell and Webber Streets. Other studies would have to wait until the Official Map was adopted.

The Board had what it considered as a "light agenda" for Tuesday's meeting, and chairman Danny Gillis expressed the hope as the meeting started that it could be over by 9:35. It was five minutes to 12 when the board closed the office door.

Cosmo Caterino, of the Wilmington Development Company appeared with a large map of the area he hopes to have removed to industrial, so that he can extend his present holdings in North Wilmington.

Caterino said that if he is able to erect the new buildings he hopes to build he will be paying the town $50,000 a year in taxes. There is about thirty acres in the property he hopes to have removed.

Parks and Playgrounds

Chairman Gillis reported he and Mrs. McKie had met last Saturday with Mrs. Robert of the Conservation Commission.

The Park and Playground program, he said, had been sitting on the shelf since 1959. He was very happy to see that T.M. Morris had a Capital Improvement Budget, and thought that it was about time the town had one.

"Industry is not going to come in if our tax rate gets too high, and some people are leaving now, because of taxes. The Town Manager has come up with a most important program, in his Capital Improvement program" Gillis said.

He described the Planning Program as being 7 projects over a ten year period, and said he had Steve Bartlett, part-time planner and assistant to Professor Elliot to come up with a program for Federal Funding for the seven projects.

Bartlett referred to a study by Mrs. McKie, and then said that the town could be getting funds from the Federal HUD program and/or from the Bureau of Reclamation.

The trouble with the HUD program, Bartlett said, is that it has to go through the state MATC, and the trouble with the Bureau of Reclamation program is that the state Legislature has as yet to complete legislation on the method of administration. The legislature may do this, he said, in two or three months.

There is also a "Self-Help" program, run by the state, Bartlett said, and he used the words "Hit or Miss in describing it."

He summed up by saying that the town should be able to get a 50% reimbursement for the program

Richard Keane Reports

Regional Vocational School District

Two years ago the Town voted overwhelmingly to join in the formation of a regional school district for the purpose of building and operating a vocational school. Since that time the regional district School Committee has been working diligently. It hired a Superintendent-Director to assist with the educational plans and to direct the actual operation of the school when it opens, rather than pay for the services of educational consultants. It engaged the architectural firm of Korslund, Le-Normand and Quann to design the facility to meet our educational specifications. In cooperation with the architects, an equipment consulting firm is at work on layouts and equipment needs.

The district has purchased a nearly ideal site on Cook St. in Billerica which is about as centrally located as could have been hoped for. It has been completely surveyed and has been approved by the Bureau of School Building Assistance of the Department of Education.

The architects have designed, changed, redesigned, modified and are still improving the preliminary plans for the school. However, we now have estimates in which we have confidence. Therefore, before going too deeply into the expense of working drawings, the District Committee now plans to obtain the necessary approvals for a bond issue.

At our meeting on October 24 we expect to vote authorization to incur debt in the amount of $3,925,000. With the $300,000 previously authorized, the District will be able to sell bonds in the amount of $4,225,000. A few weeks ago, I spoke to Mr. Micelli and to Town Manager Morris, as well as the Chairmen of other Town committees, and explained the position of the Town in relation to this matter. To briefly repeat, the Board of Selectmen of each member town will be given official notice of the vote by the District Committee. By law, the Selectmen may hold a Special Town Meeting within thirty days of the District vote if they want the voters to act on disapproval of the planned indebtedness. The option is with the Selectmen whether to hold a meeting or not. No action is tacit approval. A majority vote of disapproval by the Town Meeting will temporarily stop a bond issue. The District would, presumably, make some changes and vote a new authorization to incur debt and go through the same procedure again. I refer you to Chapter 71 of the General Laws, Section 16.

We are here tonight to give you a little advance and informal notice of our intentions and also to bring you up-to-date on our actual plans for this school. You may have seen a sketch of the proposed school in some of the newspapers. It is designed for the instruction of 680 high school students in 12 different courses, co-educationally, but core facilities would accommodate 1200 students ultimately. We hope to open in September 1969, although we realize the construction will not be complete until about January of 1970. That's how close our planning has to be!

A brochure is now at the printers and will be mailed to most of the residents within three weeks. Although not required by law, we have scheduled a public hearing in the High School Auditorium for Monday, November 6 at 8:00 pm. We want all the people to have the opportunity to ask questions. We are also available to discuss this school with other groups.

I would be glad to go into more detail on the curriculum, the basic design of the building, and so forth, if you wish. But, I expect you are now more interested in the estimated cost to Wilmington and I think you should be.

As I indicated, the total bond issue would be for a maximum of $4,225,000, but this could be reduced by the amount of our planning cost reimbursement from the state. In any event, any reimbursements of Capital Costs from state or federal sources would be applied toward payment of principal and interest charges, thereby reducing the estimated payments by the member towns.

The major reimbursement is the State Construction Grant of about 65% payable over the life of the bond issue. We plan a ten and a half year bond issue. The New England Merchants National Bank, our fiscal agent, now estimates an interest rate of 4.0%. After adding principal and interest, and deducting the state reimbursement, Wilmington's share would be about $15000 in 1968, $57000 in 1969, about $54000 in 1970, and so on down. The amount will vary in proportion to enrollments as stipulated in the agreement under which the district was created. Based on figures of October 1966, Wilmington's share is slightly over 17%.

Thank you for giving us this time on your agenda tonight. We are prepared to at least try to answer any questions you may have.

Selectmen's Meeting

On Monday evening, Mr. Miceli requested permission to attend a convention being held in Washington DC by Senator Ted Kennedy to consider local and state problems on the days of October 25 and 26. This would entail an overnight stay. Many questions were asked by Board Members, with inquiries as to necessity etc. Niles made the comment that there were always thorough reports made of this to the local governments and he really didn't know that it was necessary. However, Miceli still felt it was important so that an inquiry could be made into the availability of federal funds for the library and so forth. A vote was taken, and there was a positive vote of three, with Niles not voting.

There was a proposal of six years ago that struck some more reverberations on Monday night. The Town Manager at that time had planned a Chapter 90 Road in Andover, in Essex County.

Boyle told the Board that he and Mrs. Drew had been looking at the land in the Ballardvale Street area, and in Lowell Junction, and had noted that land taking in Wilmington was bothering the Barcellos property on Ballardvale Street.

The selectmen could not recall any land taking, and decided to have an investigation since there did not seem to be any records available. Barcellos had been in touch with the Town Counsel, according to Mrs. Drew, who said that he had two big piles of dirt, and no steps because he was waiting for the town to act.

Boyle suggested that if there had been land taking in Wilmington it be given back, and if the Andover Selectmen wanted to widen the road to let them do it.

(Ed Note: When Harold Melzar became Town Manager, four or five years ago, there were a number of suits against the town, pending or threatened, because of the lane propositions that had been made previously. Melzar recommended to the Selectmen that the proposals to widen Ballardvale Street be dropped.)

Kenneth Robbins of 835 Woburn Street and Clifford H. Hupper of 137 West Street were drawn as jurors for Criminal Court in Cambridge for Tuesday November 14.

To be considered and written in a meeting on Saturday at 9:00 am are articles for the Town Meeting: two library articles, three articles from the Permanent Building Committee; one zoning article for the Wilmington Development Company the leash law; land purchase from the Town by Larz Nelson; two from Stanley Webber for rezoning; two Planning Board articles on zoning changes; two Town Engineer's articles on drains; and one article from the Board of Welfare; plus one on the new regional vocational school.

Walter Bahia, a resident of March Road in North Wilmington appeared for a permit for a billiard room on Main Street in the property adjacent to Church St Hardware. He offered the information that there was nothing for young people in the town and he wished to open a 'family establishment'. He also stated that under 21, the youngsters could not frequent the room without parents consent and that the state would check, as well as the local police. Plans are for a building with 12 tables and a snack bar, no loitering, not a hangout with parking behind the store. Miceli allowed that it required a public hearing, which will be two weeks from tonight. The Police Chief will check out a Billiard Room now owned and operated by Mr. Bahia on Walnut Street in Peabody. The operational hours proposed are two to eleven, with Saturday nights at 11:30 closing, opening at 1:00 pm on Sunday.

The Board voted to certify the incorporation of the Wilmington Family Counseling Service.

A letter has been sent to the Benevento Gravel Company telling them they have exceeded limitations and that they were in violation of the regulations for soil loam sand and gravel removal. They are reported to have been in contact with Town Engineer Arthur Harding and will meet with him this week.

New Business
Niles wished to discuss the article for purchase of land in North Wilmington. It was decided to wait until Saturday when a layout or the proposed land purchase would be available.

Niles complimented the building maintenance department on the renovating of the Town Hall and questioned the missing board of participants in WWII from the front of the Town Hall. Miceli without discussion instructed the Town Manager to return the board to its original state and position, in spite of the fact that the Town Manager indicated he had other plans.

There was a letter from Lowell Chapman on Woodland Drive saying that the sidewalks were one-foot over the lawns and that if they were not built up, the houses would be all flooded. Gillis, who was in the 'gallery' said that the completion date was August 30, and that the developer had been instructed to take immediate action or the Planning Board would foreclose. The finishing was being done as recommended by the Town Engineer and the Planning Board. Miceli asked if the people would be apprised of Bond release. Mr. Gillis replied there was no bond and Mr. Quandt had been present at the interview, so the people should know about it, since he was their representative. The Planning Board had a bank book with eighty five hundred and the Chairman had refused to release four hundred and the interest until it was fully completed in that section. He then went on to explain the plan of development. Miceli inquired if the developer had the go ahead for the subdivision on Woburn St and Gillis said no.

The TM asked for two transfers Board of Appeals to Salary Account $125 and the Town Managers account to the Town Hall account for replacement of two adding machines for the collector and clerk presently operating with broken down machines which would cost $118 and $113 to repair. $600 was requested for replacement.

The Hatch Act Hearing was held for the Sanpek Realty of 617 Concord Avenue, Cambridge, with the proponent absent, after waiting for him for a half hour. Leland Campbell, chairman of the Conservation Committee said that they had agreed to ok this, since the developer had agreed to set back on the Northerly direction on the Maple Meadow Brook to leave clearance for natural overflow. Mr. Gillis said that the plan had been disapproved by the Planning Board because it was disapproved by the Board of Health and that the builder wouldn't proceed until the Board of Health said that the sewer systems could be properly installed. Mr. Campbell asked them not to turn it down for that reason, since the developer had agreed to comply with their requests. Mr. McNamara asked them to closely consider the Maple Meadow flood area since it was such a mess now above. He felt that all development should stop until the brook was controlled in the Woburn, Wildwood, and Redwood Road areas. The vote was disapproval with three votes, and Niles abstaining.

Two residents of Garden Avenue appeared with a petition and photos of the water in the Pedway to the school. This will be discussed next week after investigation by the Town Manager.

The Board of Health and Mr. Romano appeared to discuss the sewer problem in the Center. The state is designing the system it seems, even to the point that the proprietor has hired engineers recommended by the State Board of Health. The reason for the delay, it seems, is that there was the system being tested by the State Department as designed in another location, which was now approved by the State Public Health representative Tom McLaughlin. The time table for finish would be at least the end of the year. Niles asked if there was anything temporary that could be done. Mr. Romano said he thought so. Boylen asked about the odors in the Woburn St Area, and Mr. Durkee had been down there to investigate. They allowed that the industrial plant had now a catalytic unit burner that used up all the gases in the plant. Romano explained that his hands were tied, because, if a plant did not require a sewage permit, he had no jurisdiction over the building and these should be screened before they came. Niles made a suggestion that there is a resident of North Wilmington that worked for Arthur D Little and traced odors and their sources for a living. Boylen suggested that Romano be sent to a course for learning on air pollution and that he be allowed consultation fees for this type of thing in the new budget.

Dick Keane and Frank McLean appeared to state that the new location to the Shawheen Valley School would be on Cook St in Billerica and that the total cost will be a $4,225,000 figure, which would cost Wilmington approximately 17% of the total, for which we would have 20% of the registration. The share of the capital investment for 1968 is $15000, for 1969 it is $54000, and for 1970 it will be $57000. The operational cost share per year for Wilmington will be approximately $22,000. Since the other towns were not having a vote Niles suggested that Wilmington have an article in the Special Town Meeting to see how the people felt about it. The Board agreed to this and Mr Keane will present the article at the Town Meeting.

Carlo Gubellini appeared with the plans for the new library on the St Thomas site. He also stated that this should take care of the town for several decades. The Committee is preparing a brochure for the Townspeople at present and no funds had been appropriated from Federal Grants this year, and they had no way of knowing if there would be. He wanted to be prepared to start in the 1968 dead line, not jeopardizing the starting date because of delays in the Federal financing.

Arthur Harding appeared to say that he had two articles for the Town Meeting. One is a repeat of one at the last town meeting because this needed a two-thirds recorded vote. And also there needed to be an authorization for the Board of Selectmen to accept various easements for drain purposes. The Town Manager spoke up to say that the way things were set up now, he couldn't even accept land given to them for drainage. So, if this was voted he could then use winter months to prepare documents for land received.

The Town Manager said that the signs for traffic regulations were ordered but they would not be available for a month, and that his Newsletter would be out soon.

It was decided that the Patenaude and Comeau removal of gravel will be postponed until a ruling is made by the Town Counsel.

Nosey Nancy

Send your announcements to Nancy, Box 208, Wilmington, or call 657-7141, or after five, 658-4865. If I'm not there, I'll call you.

Hi, Folks. Something is in the wind for the early part of November at the Congregational Church. We haven't heard the details yet, but understand that we'll be able to glean a little more information for you by next week. Keep an eye on me, huh?

There'll be a real live Hootenay in Wilmington on October 22 at 8 pm at the Villanova Hall at St. Thomas Church on Middlesex Avenue. It will launch the first meeting of the Ecumenical Youth Council and will be given by the Franciscan Friars from New Hampshire. The Ecumenical Youth Council is comprised of delegates from the youth groups of each of the churches in Town. The Hootenay will be followed by the election of officers, who will preside at a number of these meetings through out the year. (By the way, we have had the tune first hand that there are as many, if not more, Protestant Youths at the CYO Youth Center than Catholic, which means that Protestant Parents should be helping with the Center also. This is one of the best things that has ever happened in Wilmington. It shows that Mr. Niles is right about the necessity of teen programs. The center is brimming over with youngsters every weekend. Our congratulations and best wishes to you folks at St. Thomas. Hope the others in Town will take the hint.)

Bob McNabb of 6 Fitz Terrace left October 16 for two years of active duty with the Naval Reserve. He reported to the Naval Base at Newport, Rhode Island for assignment. We hear that Bob is the fourth generation to join the Navy while he was employed at the Charlestown Navy Yard. Goodluck to you Bob!

News from the Legion Post 136. 1967 Dues are now overdue. Pay up and send them to Box 225, Wilmington, so that you won't be missing your copies of the Legion Magazine. Check your friends and see if you can bring a new member to the next meeting. If you have any questions, place a call to Jack Knowlton at 657-7252.

No one on the sick list last month, which is great. If you hear of a comrade sick or in distress, please call our Chaplain Frank Tebeau at 658-2890.

The program... Oct 25, Hospital Night. Join them.

Oct 28, Halloween Party. Costume optional. Fun for all.

Thanks to all who are helping in any way to fix up the Hall. Thanks also to Jim Shaughnessy for his kind assistance.

We hear that Maddie from Deming Way just returned from a trip to see her daughter in California and flew both ways. We commented on her lovely tan, and she told us seriously that it was so hot out there that they didn't go out at all--102 in the shade. She attributes her lovely tan to the backyards at Deming Way.

It seems that the birdies tell us that Sally Macdonald and Miriam Colucci are gadding about in Europe. They decided to go just like that. They'll stop and see Ann and Paul in Germany, where he's an exchange student and Ann is teaching English in the German Schools. Wonder how they are doing with 'Sprecher zie Deutsch'? (Am' believe me, mine's plenty rusty, but we have fun.)

The Red Cross has put out a little bulletin about the Christmas gifts for the Boys in the Service. The prefer family snapshots and voice tapes, and many more letters. Also, please wrap same in Town Criers. That's what the boys in Europe, Korea, Japan, and Vietnam say.

Deadlines for mailing are Nov 10 by surface mail, or Dec 10 by Air mail. They also wish to have paperbacks, magazines, and small puzzles and tabletop games, stationery with self-sealing envelopes and even extra money for leaves or to purchase small items from foreign countries. Home-baked foods are welcome, but be careful

The only things that travel to the hot countries are hard candy and cookies in metal containers, and these are not certain. The Red Cross suggests that family gifts should vary according to a man's military location. Depending on climate, socks, sweaters, and other articles of clothing will be welcome if the serviceman is in an area where he can wear civilian clothes. Just to jog your memory, I need that Serviceman's address for the Christmas List. Let's get with it and drop it into the mail. Otherwise, he may get missed, because the only active list I have at the moment is a continuation of last year's or the addresses in the office, and many have changed.

And speaking of mail, we received a note from Brad Morse that after heavy debate, the House of Representatives in Congress voted that first class mail will increase from five to six cents, and our good old fashioned penny postcard will increase from four to five cents. Air mail letters will cost ten cents and air post cards will be eight cents. We haven't heard as yet how soon this bill will be enacted into law, but it sounds like a good idea to get out our Christmas mail now, especially to all of your Servicemen that are abroad, as I would feel very badly if I thought that for a cent or two some poor fellow in the Service didn't get any mail or package.

A notice from the Woman's Army Corps offers to qualified young women many opportunities for travel within the US and overseas. Single high school graduates between ages of 18 and 34 may qualify for a three-year enlistment. There are opportunities for college graduates to be commissioned as officers and serve in junior and senior executive positions. You may obtain further information from Lt Fisher at the US Army Base or by calling 542-6000, ext 708. What about that, gals?

The Dairymen's League Cooperative Association of 100 Park Ave New York, NY 10017 is offering scholarships to encourage college students to continue their studies in various agricultural activities. Mr Gray Matter Jr., Headmaster of Wilbraham Academy, in Wilbraham, Mass 01095, has money for scholarships in the honor of the late Louis C. Flocken. According to the terms of this fund scholarship aid, up to full tuition will be awarded to boys on the basis of sound character, academic aptitude, outstanding academic achievement, financial need, and the ability to contribute to the school in other than purely academic areas. For inquiry, you may write to either Mr Matter Jr., or Mr Frederick W Prater Jr, the Dir of Admissions. This should be a worthwhile opportunity for some youngsters college bound since the school offers Advanced Placement courses in English, math, Am and Eur Hist, Chem, Physics, Biology and languages, as well as courses in art, music, psychology philosophy and creative writing.

There'll be a Paper Drive by Troop 56 of the Boy Scouts on this Saturday, Oct 21 from eight to two pm. We will take all the papers, magazines etc that we can get. If you wish a pickup, call Mr L Daniell at 658-4916, or leave your papers at the Congo Church.

Mrs. Lynch called to say that Dennis will be home for Christmas, but that he was most anxious to be put on the list. His address is Serial Number US 51727995, Co B, 1st Bn, 1st Trn Brigade, 3d Platoon Ft Jackson, So Carolina 29207.

We were most sorry to hear that John Madigan Jr., a cousin to Dennis Lynch was killed in action in Vietnam. Mr. Madigan Sr works for Raffi and Swanson, we understand and our heart is with that family. John was the eldest of seven children. Mrs Lynch aunt to John said that people were just wonderful in feeling sympathy and offering help. She said that Torbie McDonald and Chick O'Neill knocked themselves out to get the body home and that the Veterans Organizations and absolute strangers. This was so good to hear, when one reads about so much dissension in the country today.

Bob Parent's address is Robert W. Parent, Spec 4, RA 11467515 Co C, 227th Avn. Bn, 1st Cavalry Division Airmobile, APO San Francisco 96490. Bob, out of curiosity, we are wondering from that address if you are flying horses over seas--and that's not a pun, just a curious inquiry. Let's hear from you about that, huh?

The Disabled American Veterans will be conducting a 'Forget-

Me-Not Drive' throughout the town today, tomorrow and Saturday. The drive is to aid the hospital work and the building fund of the local William F. Tattersall chapter. These men gave of themselves in time of war, so let's give them a hand now.

The Lions Club still has some bulbs, towels and brooms left from their door to door drive on September 24. If you were not at home to hear them pound on your door, you may make a purchase by calling any of the following members: John Harvey 658-8072, St Cutter 658-2277, William Cavanaugh 658-3138, William Richardson 658-7141, Joe App 658-2223, Bud Lyford 658-3126, Dick Howlett 658-8228, Doc Davis 658-4595, Sam Wilkie 658-8821, Don Kidder 658-3467, Rene LaRivee 658-3556, Louie Theriault 658-9081, Edward Devaney 933-2955, Anthony De Francesco 358-9240, George Gonzales 333-9258, or Anthony DeLuca (Drive Chairman) 658-8663.

Troop 59 of the Wilmington Boy Scouts made a trip to New Hampshire last weekend. Their host was John Arvanitis, who owns property at the edge of the Bear Brook Reservation. There were nineteen scouts participating under the leadership of Arthur Moore. They hiked five miles with packs and tented out, doing their own cooking. A fine weekend spent by all in the woods and in the good streams. (Still don't know whether or not they had to 'catch' their dinner.)

SOS...SOS...St Dorothy's School of Religion is in desperate need of three teachers...especially for the Monday nights. They also need substitutes. Please call Miss Patricia Leahy at 658-8025...and help out!

An encouraging notice from the Mass Ass. for Mental Health is that Chapter 626 of the Acts of 1967 make mandatory school programs for emotionally disturbed children in Mass. This legislation requires all public schools in the Bay State provide special training and treatment programs for emotionally disturbed children. There are now only 30 communities which have a total of 46 special classes for emotionally disturbed children in the entire state. School superintendents and departments are being asked to start planning now for the program development. There will be a grace period after Dec 19, 1967 to allow for proper screening of applicants obtaining of classroom space, and hiring of teachers, etc.

All of the new programs should be transitional for children so that they may be reintegrated into their regular classes at the earliest possible time. This would apply to children who have been forced to drop out of their regular classes as well as children who are coming out of private residential care centers. Wherever possible, the programs will stress ties between the pupils and their peers, so that the children will not feel the stigma of separation or isolation.

Most programs will involve classroom instruction in regular school subjects. However, there will be provision for mental health and psychiatric consultation to the school programs under regulations to be determined by the State Dept of Education and Mental Health. The state will provide reimbursement to cities and towns for the costs incurred for consultation. It will NOT be the aim of the new program to duplicate existing mental health clinic or future community health services.

The State will also pay half of the cost for transporting children to the approved programs and classes where there are none in the community where the child resides.

From the days of medicine shows and snake oil... If you remember them you are on the after side of 60... the medical world has made great strides... people are living longer as a result of it. Those old medicine shows were something... usually a barker quack peddling some concoction in a bottle (unsealed) that consisted of liquor, anise, peppermint and a large portion of imagination... 'good for gout, rheumatiz, the miseries and whatever ails you.

Grandad gulped it by the quart, and somehow felt better. Such potions are outlawed by the FDA. Now most every drug store has at least one whole wall crammed with medicines produced by scientific laboratories which spend millions in research and investigation. Any of them are safe and really beneficial. All admonish seeing your physician if condition persists.

At the rate of progress we are experiencing today, it is calculated that comparatively soon now there will be no such thing as a loss of work from illness. Meanwhile, for all your medical needs, see us at Silver Lake Pharmacy in Wilmington at 52 Main Street where you'll find us ready to serve you from 9 am to 10 pm daily. Don't have the time to come into our store, but need a prescription fast? Well, there's no problem; just phone 658-4617 and we'll have it there in a jiffy.

For those that would prefer, we have plenty of free parking. THIS WEEK'S HOUSEHOLD HINT: Run metal meat skewers through potatoes lengthwise. They'll cook in half the time.

NEW WEBELOS PROGRAM: Was demonstrated for the first time last Thursday at Pack Meeting 58 in the Methodist Church. Robert Reid (left) of Lang Street was the first boy to complete a project (sportsmanship) under the new program. He is shown explaining to Webelos Leader John Arvanitis of Middlesex Avenue and Cub Master Ernest Ardolino of Broad Street.

In Your Service at the State House

By Senator Ronald C MacKenzie
 Seventh Middlesex District

It has been some period since I have been able to report in column form to the voters and citizens of the Seventh Middlesex District. I believe I now have the logistical problem beaten, and as we go into the very active Fall period I hope to report to you more frequently and keep you up-to-date on situations as they develop at the State House and more specifically on the more controversial items.

The length of the legislative sessions now appears that it will be well into December before we prorogue, due to the tax bill which will be sent in by the Governor. We also still have the Senate and House House Redistricting to go, several crime bills are left on the agenda, the Implied Consent Bill, Automobile Insurance, the stadium proposals Civil Service messages, and the Supplementary Budget. I will briefly bring you up-to-date on several of the matters more recently decided upon.

Without debate, the Massachusetts Legislature has approved by a wide margin a Constitutional Amendment that would lower the voting age to 19. The bill was thoroughly debated earlier in the year, and since there was nothing new, for or against it, it was quickly adopted by a roll-call vote - with your Senator voting 'Yes'.

Constitutional changes take time (They are all important and must be carefully considered) and the proposal has been referred to the legislature which has not yet been elected, but which will take office in 1969. Then, if passed, it will go on the ballot for action by the voters at the next state election. Time consuming, yes, but the real democratic system in operation.

The automobile insurance law is now back to the House. You may remember that the Keeton-O'Connell plan was substituted on afternoon after brief debate and virtually no study on part of the Insurance Committee or members of the House. The bill came over to the Senate and after several weeks of intense study by Senate Ways and Means and the individual members of the Senate was rejected. Senate Ways and Means did make several amendments to the present compulsory law, which I voted against retaining and the Senate ultimately voted in favor of the Governor's Financial Responsibility Plan. Without discussing all the debate on the subject matter, we can say that 47 of the States have financial responsibility and their rates are lower in all cases.

Gover Volpe's plan now goes to the House for concurrence, if they do not concur a Conference Committee will be appointed to seek a possible compromise. I will report to you on this later and I also wish to thank the many hundreds of people who made known their feelings on this important automobile insurance bill.

The enthusiasm generated by the Boston Red Sox this season leads me to mention to you that the stadium bill is now in the Mercantile Affairs Committee where it was sent from House Ways and Means. I was a member of the Committee on State Administration which originally had this bill. I was one of the members of the committee voting favorably on the measure which would have the Turnpike Authority supervising the building of a stadium and they would decide on the location. There is no doubt in my mind that the overall good of the Commonwealth dictates that we build a stadium. Since no private individuals have come forth with sound financial backing, it remains that the state involve itself. No legislator wants to vote for pledging the state's credit if there are other measures available. To date no have been proposed but it is our hope that in the next few weeks a solution bill will be found.

I voted in favor of local control of billboards as this measure passed the Senate. The bill has been reported adversely out of House Ways and Means and it will be up to the Representatives to overturn this adverse report and follow the lead of the Senate in giving our local communities the power that they enjoy in the 49 other states.

My Webelos office is still open and I look forward to any persons who wish to visit with me there.

Legion Volunteers Cited

Past Commander Angus MacFeeley of the Wilmington Post 136, American Legion, has been cited by the Veterans Administration for his work at the Veteran's Hospital in Bedford.

The Citation recognizes that MacFeeley, who lives on Burnap Street, has put in over 100 hours of volunteer work among the mentally disabled veterans at the hospital, through active participation in the Veterans Administration Voluntary Service Program.

Mrs. Catherine Emery of the Wilmington unit of the American Legion Auxiliary was also cited for 100 hours of work in the Voluntary Service Program.

MacFeeley also received an award for Sub-District 5 of the American Legion, of which he was Commander in the past year. Sub-District 5 gave twelve Ward Parties during the past year for the patients in restricted wards, who are unable to leave the hospital.

Unit 136 was also given a Certificate for Ward Parties for the restricted veterans.

LETTER FROM DR LACERVA OF THE VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

To Our Volunteers: The modern day trend concerning the role of the volunteer deals primarily in helping bridge the gap between the veteran's hospitalization program and his return to the community.

Volunteers, through community education and action of veterans' problems, bring the community to the veteran. They also serve as intermediaries in helping the veteran accept responsibility and a role in community living.

Adult and Youth Volunteers, alike, are an integral part of our hospital treatment program. Only one who has played an important part in this transition can fully realize the tremendous satisfaction experienced by an individual for a job well done.

To all our volunteers who have served and are presently serving our veterans in the hospital and the community, we are forever grateful.

Benevento - Town Agreement

Where did the Town Hall Copy Go?

THE BIGGEST BUSINESS IN WILMINGTON, IN THE TERMS OF LAND AREA: The Benevento Gravel Pit, in North Wilmington, with land owned by various members of the family, has a total area of about 205 acres. Property lines are drawn approximately, according to the available records. Most of the places that are shown as white in this picture are places where there have been gravel operations. A notable exception to this is the Clark Field, which is grassland, and is owned by a member of the Benevento family. Town Hall records of an agreement between the operator of the gravel pit and former Town Manager Richard Henneberger are missing.

What happened to a the copy of an agreement made sometime in 1965 or 1966 between former Town Manager Richard M Henneberger and the operator of the Benevento Gravel Pit, in North Wilmington? There was such an agreement. Henneberger told the Board of Selectmen about it, but no one in the Town Hall can find a copy, according to what Town Manager Sterling C. Morris has told the Board of Selectmen. Sterling Morris told the Selectmen he had 'hunted high and low for it'. While Henneberger was still the Town Manager he told the Selectmen that he had made an agreement with the gravel operators. Previously he had told them that the operators of Benevento's pit had not taken out a license for five or six years. Henneberger was the first town manager in half a dozen years to look into the matter of gravel licenses. Other Town Managers had been told about the operations by private citizens and others but did nothing. The history of the inaction on the part of the Town Managers dates back six or seven years. Lloyd C Bender, former Selectman, was one of those who started Henneberger into the business of looking into gravel licenses. Bender took an active part in the work, and may possibly have his own records.

LAND ACQUISITIONS OF THE BENEVENTO FAMILY IN WILMINGTON

The Benevento Gravel Pit was started by the late Mike Benevento of Lynn back about 1950. John Benevento bought 25 acres of land from the late Herbert C. Barrows, described as being between Martins Brook and Route 62, and at the same time bought other land from the late Arthur S Flint of North Reading. A Board of Appeals hearing was held shortly thereafter, and the Benevento gravel interests were given permission to operate a gravel pit on the Barrows land, with the limit of the proposed operations being spelled out in terms of boundaries and grades. According to the records available this is the only public hearing ever held on the Benevento Gravel Pits, although the late Mike Benevento did have a session with the Planning Board about 1950. Since then the Benevento family has been acquiring land in North Wilmington and other places nearby, including North Reading and Andover. The records show, for further purchases in North Wilmington: August 15, 1949, Michael Benevento from John D Cooke April 3, 1952: Mary Benevento from John D Cooke December 10, 1952, Michael Benevento from John D Cooke, 28 Acres, off Andover Street and south of Pearson lot. May 6, 1955. John Benevento from the Town of Wilmington, land sold in public auction, the 'Nod Woods Lot' said to contain 10 acres Price $2000. May 26, 1952, John Benevento from Ivar C Martin of North Andover, 4.2 acres, near Pearson lot October 18, 1962: John Benevento from John W Clarke et ux, 2 parcels, the former Pearson lots, totaling 23.75 acres. (It was after this purchase was made that the former Town Assessor suggested to the then Town Manager that a survey be made to establish the bounds of the Clarke farm, for future reference. The north. Autos were able to make their way through the slithering pile of fish scraps, but then they left morsels of fish all along the superhighway. As fast as the pavement was sanded, by the trucks it had to be sanded again. It was dangerous, driving along that highway, and many a motorist had a tale to tell his wife, when he got home, how the rear end of his car 'just slid around'.

It was the worst traffic tie-up in years on Route 93. The traffic jam extended over five miles to the south, beyond Route 128. The State Police worked over 2 1/2 hours to untangle it.

No one knows just how many secondary accidents occurred on that fish-slicked highway, but Bailey reported one four-car collision and three three-car collisions.

The two car collisions - he just didn't know. There were, he said, at least eleven, and probably a lot more.

And one of those three-car accidents also involved a VW Bug. It happened down near Route 128, five miles from the accident itself.

This Bug didn't get away. It was caught right in the middle - right between two larger cars!

It was, one spectator said, a 'perfect Bug Sandwich'.

What is P.A.F.E.C.?

Parents and Friends of Exceptional Children. The following article is divided into three categories: The Purpose, Activities and Need of an organization of this type.

Purpose
The recognition of the principle 'equal treatment of unequals' can only result in the greatest inequality' is the bases on which programs for the exceptional child are developed. The educable mentally retarded and the trainable mentally retarded must receive special instruction by highly skilled teachers, to attain the objective of full development for each child.

Academic subjects center in the pupil's everyday life situations. They aim to provide a sound scholastic base in keeping with the pupil's ability, to familiarize him with his environment, and to increase his social confidence. Behaviour is taught through habit, and acceptable attitudes are cultivated through training. Realistic job experience is provided.

In Special Classes, basic school subjects are taught to the very limit of the pupil's ability. Full use of individual talents and abilities is encouraged, as is the participation of each pupil in every class activity.

The pupil is led to form many specific habits in school which will serve him well throughout his life. Among these are habits of punctuality, regular attendance, responsibility, fairness, self-control, and truthfulness.

Preparation for assuming the duties of citizenship has its beginnings in the classroom where situations paralleling those of adult life are presented. To the Special Class pupil who has been taught acceptable conduct for specific situations which he is likely to meet in life and who knows and accepts his social, economic and civic responsibilities, the so-called stigma attached to mental retardation has little meaning. Through a system of highly individualized and specialized training, the Special Class pupil, who has little or no chance of success in the grades, can face life with confidence.

Need
There is need for Special Classes in the educational program. It is difficult to discover that previous to the last 50 or 60 years youngsters who would qualify for Special Classes have been disregarded, neglected, and often pushed aside in the classrooms.

The P.A.F.E.C. organization of Wilmington was formed because of the need to give Special Class students the badly needed attention and guidance in their learning process. This organization consists of parents, friends, and teachers of the Special Education classes. Since its foundation in 1963 the P.A.F.E.C. has made a broad contribution toward the purpose for which it was founded.

Activities
Many projects are a part of this contribution, projects such as field trips, circuses, May Pole dance and proms. A money raising project, the showing of films on designated Saturdays throughout the school year, has enabled the organization to buy the following articles for use in the classrooms: Tape recorder, band instruments, table and chairs, typewriter, inside hockey game, tools and shop equipment for the Senior boys, duplicator machine, phonographs, and graduation awards, and anything that the teacher needs in the classrooms.

Although much has been accomplished, there are many ideas to materialize in the future, such as bowling, horseback riding, skating, dancing, trips to the Science Museum, zoo and musical concerts.

The future is becoming brighter for children in the Special Classes for there they learn to the capacity of which they are available. The children are taught trades as well as the basic courses of education.

A child who is considered a slow learner could be the child of any parents. They are, on the large part, normal healthy children who need the guidance, consideration and feeling of want from their parents, teachers, friends and all who associated with them.

The public must not push them aside, - instead it must take them in, want them, help them, and most of all - love them.

President of P.A.F.E.C. is Irwin Squibb, 658-3738. The Vice president is Joseph Meehan, 658-3726. Mrs Marilyn Deschenes is the treasurer, and Mrs Dorothy Pierce the secretary.

Mrs Isabelle Burns of Lowell is the Co-ordinator of the Special Classes. Her number is 452-2235 from the Federal government, and if it did this it would then get a 25% reimbursement from the state, meaning that the town would only have to put up 25% of the money for the projected recreational and playground areas.

Sterling Morris: No reason why we shouldn't proceed!

Morris described himself as being intent on 'acquiring land by Silver Lake' for the town.

Gillis: We don't care - as long as it is done!

Gillis described the Silver Lake project as being almost all around the pond, and said that the whole project would cost $55000 and would be done in four increments.

The projected playground to the eastward of Hathaway Acres and Marie Drive was described by Gillis as being the first in order.

The program calls for getting three or four lots of the Hathaway Acres area, two or three from Esquire Estates, plus the 'tail end' of the Esquire Estates project (23 lots) plus 3 1/2 acres of swamp, plus town owned land.

Gillis said they were talking of a three year program which would include about 18 acres, and would have picnic areas, hiking trails, foot paths, Conservation and winter time skating.

The estimated cost is $30,000 over the three years. As funds would be returned by the Federal and State governments, he said, they could be turned over to the use of projects of a similar nature in other areas.

Another site on which the planners have their eye is the old Salem & Lowell Railroad bed, north of Salem Street and east of Andover Street. Gillis said it would be good for nature walks, conservation and bridle paths. The cost would be $1000, he hoped.

The fourth site named was the old cranberry bog (once called Winn's Bog) near the Glen Road School. It would be good for a skating program Gillis declared, and for wildlife. At the same time a pedway should be constructed across the lower end of the bog so that school children could walk from Cunningham Street and the Fairview Avenue area to school.

Gillis estimated the cost at $1000. The Hundred Acre Meadow, below Jenks Bridge on Woburn Street and the bridge area itself was the fifth project named by Gillis. It would be for fishing, swimming, skating, and for conservation, and would cost about $10,000.

The sixth project is an area near the Billerica line, and is being called the Billerica - Wilmington Conservation Area.

It would include the reservoirs above the cranberry bog on Shawshen Avenue, and both sides of the stream upstream from there to the Billerica line.

Gillis declared that it would not be much of a job to put in bridle paths on both sides of the water.

The cost would be $10,000.

Some town owned land near Temple Street and Lowell Street could be converted into a playground of several acres, Gillis said. There were two lots of land there that he felt the town should buy to make the playground bigger.

The annual expenses for such a program, on an annual basis, has been estimated, but no one volunteered as to what it would be.

Steve Bartlett said that of the nine programs the most urgent one was those of Hathaway Acres and Temple Street.

He would be leaving for New York City in the morning (i.e. yesterday) and he intended to discuss the projects at the HUD headquarters in that city, and also with the Department of Natural Resources

Rezonng Etc.

A long time was spent in discussion of the various rezoning articles, and of another article which the Planning Board is planning for the Warrant of the Special Town Meeting, regarding the sale of small lots of land by the town.

The board also considered three requests to buy town owned land and approved all three.

The first had been previously turned down by the Planning Board under the belief that the individual making the request was not an abuttor. The land is near Broad Street (Map 67, Parcel 3240). The would-be purchaser had written a letter from Lowell, saying he had read of the incident where the Planning Board has turned down the request in the Town Crier, and saying further that he was the owner of an adjacent lot which he had recently purchased. This caused the board to change its mind and approve.

The second lot was Parcel 98 on Lot 6. There were no difficulties. It is near Burlington Avenue.

The third lot was a larger one, in two different residential zones. The only abuttor to the lot wanted to buy it, to enlarge his own property. It is located in the woods near Beacon Street, Parcel 24 on Map 41.

The board approved after adding a restriction that the purchaser could build no other dwelling on the lot of land.

FROM THE BOX SEAT

The WHS Cross Country team ran away from Burlington 20-38 on Wednesday afternoon. Dave Knight, Frank Harrington and Charlie Arsenault were the top three local finishers. Then on Friday the squad took its fourth consecutive meet, outdistancing North Reading 21-39. Once again Dave Knight and his mates with a strong second finish. Charlie Arsenault, Frank Harrington and Ernie Taylor backed him up, taking third, fourth and fifth respectively for Coach Kelly's harriers.

The two top football teams in the Merrimack Valley Conference met at Dracut Saturday in what shaped up as a defensive battle.

In short it was, with Wilmington's vaunted offense sputtering repeatedly, while its defense unit pushed the Middles all over the field.

Coming out after a scoreless first half, Wilmington tallied first with Quarterback Billy Walls capping a drive by rolling out and slipping in from the six. Esposito's conversion attempt was blocked.

The next serious scoring threat came a period later when the Wildcats took possession on the Dracut 11 following the second errant pass from center to would-be punter Pendergast. Fullback Hank Devlin ran it to the six, but three more plays netted minus two yards, allowing the Middles to take over and punt out of trouble.

With an opportunity to run out the clock, Wilmington worked the ball to Dracut's 25 only to lose possession on downs again. Quarterback Moore then clicked on two ten yard passes, and uncorked a desperation bomb which fell incomplete at the Wildcat 15. However, interference was ruled and Dracut had a first down, penetrating beyond the 50 for the first time in the half. Three plays later Moore found Graham in the end zone and the score was tied. Hank Cogan's extra point wasn't blocked and Dracut took over first place, 7-6.

The WHS jayvees also took their lumps from Dracut on Monday.

The varsity travels to Burlington this Saturday.

UNRESERVED

A petition replete with signatures is ready for the annual town meeting (next Spring) should it be needed. It contains a request for appropriations of an additional $10 thousand for adult recreation programs and a lighted field. If the Recreation Commission's fiscal 1968 budget proves inadequate, then this petition will be activated and passed, so help me Sal Mineo.

The Booster's button drive is drawing to a close with the net gain being near $1600. The senior class won a $20 award from the Boosters for being top class in sales. Sharleyn Moore, no relation to Dracut's Q-Back, personally peddled 62 buttons and won a transistor radio donated by Wilmington Radio and TV.

Next Wednesday it is to be a color film of the Burlington game and it will be shown at the high school cafeteria at 8 pm.

The Men's League rosters are filling up. If you want to play, then tricky dribble over to the West Intermediate School next Tuesday night and sign up...

The not so terrifying St. Louis Cardinals have just proven to the world that Bob Gibson, Lou Brock and Julien Javier could play clutch baseball and the rest of the flock couldn't bring a trade nibble from C. O. Finley... So the poor man's Eddie Stanky, Red Schoendienst and his Buschmen issue the bushiest of quotes to the effect that the Sox had been lucky to get as far as they did... Barring Swelledheaditis the Sox will take it all next year, including the series, which St. Louis will not even make... When is B.C. going to smarten up and play a local schedule? It's ludicrous to have the top team in New England sporting a five hundred record annually. The big name colleges don't draw any more than neighbors would (15,000 vs. Penn. St.) and the Eagles are outclassed that it's humiliating...

Will Don Trull get anymore of a chance to play than did Eddie Wilson or John Huarte?... Par-tilly, by the by, never in his mediocre career looked better than he did Sunday against the pathetic Miami Dolphins... How many fellow second guessers would have started Lee Stange in one of those series games?...

The Pop Warner Chargers bounced back impressively last Sunday, topping Stoneham 18-6. Mark Jenson scored all three TDs one of them on a spectacular 60 yard interception return. The line was immense both ways, particularly George Mulvey and Tom McGinley... The club plays the Big One, Sunday at Burlington, at 1:30. Both teams sport 5 and 1 first place records...

Is Eddie Lopat to be the next Red Sox pitching coach or will it be Ken Coleman?... It's most refreshing to see the Wilmington Stadium back in the news... At this point most ticket buyers would settle for any location. Waiting for Governor Volpe to complete his term is tearjerking.

Letter

Dear Larz,

There has to be a reasonable explanation!

Forgive a little Monday morning quarterbacking and consider the following:

Wilmington leads Dracut 6 - 0 with about four minutes gone in the last quarter. Wilmington's ball, first down on the Dracut 12 yard line. Three plays later the ball is on the seven yard line and it's fourth and five. Beautiful spot with time running out! A field goal will make it 9-0 and Dracut must score twice to win, against a tough Wilmington defense.

So what happens? A busted up pass play, Dracut takes over on downs, goes down the field, scores, converts, and with a minute or so left, wins 7-6.

Now I know it's only a game, and we'll all get over it, but what a waste! This goal! Wilmington club deserved a better fate, as the game statistics show. So I ask again, can some soul enlighten me? Obviously I have overlooked something.

I hope the answer doesn't come back that we don't have a field goal kicker. My anemic, twiggy shaped 10 year old daughter can kick them from the seven yard line, even with the goal posts set back ten yards from the end line!

Sincerely,
Hugh Wiberg

WILMINGTON YOUTH WILL BE SWORN INTO NAVY ON BUNKER HILL

Christian Stuart Nelson, son of the publisher of the Town Crier and Mrs Larz Nelson is one of 90 youths who will be sworn into the United States Navy on Navy Day, October 27th, at the Bunker Hill Monument in Charlestown.

Rear Admiral Roy S Benson, USN Commandant of the First Naval District will administer the oath at 12:00 noon, as part of the nation wide observance of Navy Day.

Admiral Benson will administer the enlistment oath in front of the Bunker Hill Monument and the statue of Colonel William Prescott, the Revolutionary officer who, on June 17, 1885 stated: 'Do not fire, boys, until you see the white of their eyes - aim low and pick off their officers!'

The ceremonies will be open to the public. The 90 future blue-jackets will train at the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill. as the 'USS Bunker Hill Company'.

Now he is a Burlington Fan!

REMEMBER THIS PLAYER? This picture appeared in the Town Crier six years ago, and was a shot of Wilmington's Left End catching a forward, with his finger tips.

The player was three years under the tutelage of Coach Fred Bellissimo, and was the leading scorer on the Wilmington team for two years, and was on the Lowell All Suburban All Star team for 2 years and on the Boston Traveler All Scholastic C Team.

He played football and baseball for Northeastern University, and went to Omaha for the College World Series.

He is the first Wilmington Grad to play for Wilmington and then be coach for a team playing against Wilmington. You'll see him on the coaching line, for Burlington, Saturday!
